

SPECIAL FASTENER COMPANY PRESENTATON

BRITISH STAINLESS STEEL ASSOCIATION

A HISTORY OF HAGUE FASTENERS (Est. 1971)

HAGUE FASTENERS was originally founded in 1971 by John Stuart Hague, along with its sister Company Richards & Allan (Nuts & Bolts). The two companies were formed to manufacture high quality fasteners, one in Carbon Alloy steels, the other in Stainless steels and Superalloys. Both concentrated on non standard sizes and rapid deliveries.

The two family owned firms established themselves as international leaders in special fastener manufacturing in the 1970's and 1980's.

In the late 1990's the Companies merged together under their group name, The Ralin Group Ltd, but following popular demand, the HAGUE FASTENERS name made a long overdue and welcome return in 2012.

In 2017 Husband & Wife Team Jon and Claire Hague made a significant investment to relocate to a Custom Built Facility in the heart of England and the Family run business has since continued to grow and develop with the 3rd Generation of Hague's, Jack, Tom & Max, and have been featured on several News Channels including a Live Broadcast & Focus on BBC Breakfast News as one of the UK's few successful 3rd Generation Family Run Businesses.

From their concept in the heart of the British Steel Industry in Sheffield to their 1971 founding in Central England, Hague are the original Craftsmen In Fasteners.

SPECIAL FASTENERS

Custom Bespoke Special Fasteners

These Special Fasteners are Complete Special Purpose, Custom designed fasteners. An OEM design of a tailor-made fastener fit for a specific purpose to suit the OEM equipment that is to be installed on.

Standard “Material Special Fasteners”

So you need a perfectly Standard Fastener, a Hex Bolt, a Stud or a Hex Nut perhaps but if it's not a regular standard steel grade, or a commercial stainless steel, the chances are you have zero chance of buying them from a regular Fastener Stockist.

This Fastener, as standard as the product is, is a Special Fastener because of the material grade you need. A duplex stainless or a Superalloy, suddenly your standard bolt is a special fastener.

COMPETITIVE FASTENER ENGINEERING

A great responsive company. Very competitive, without compromising on quality

Adrian (UK Engineering Services Group)

Standard Fasteners

“UK Origin Special Fasteners”

Often now we see Critical Industry Equipment Manufacturers are stipulating on their own Material Data Sheets that a perfectly standard fastener, in a perfectly standard material, is specified but with a critical caveat that the material and manufacture has to be from a UK/US/EU source. These "Non Far Eastern" supply stipulations in essence make a standard fastener a Special Fastener that has to be manufactured to order.

QUICK QUOTES WITH COMPETITIVE PRICES

I have found these guys very professional, providing various quotes for exotic fasteners on a very quick basis. I'll definitely be back.

Michael (Engineering R&D)

Thread Type Special Fasteners

Again a perfectly standard fastener becomes a special fastener when the pitch or thread form you need is not one that is commercially available. These could be Metric Fine threads, BSW, BSF, UNF or maybe UNC. Whatever the reason you get a "No Stock" response, you need expert manufacturing assistance to supply your Special Threaded Fastener.
